

The Institute for the Study of French-Australian Relations (ISFAR) is celebrating its 35th anniversary with a series of public events to which you are warmly invited, including a free online lecture and a two-day Symposium.

ISFAR @ 35

Australia and France in a Regional and Global Context: Past Engagements and Future Research Directions

35th Anniversary Symposium of the Institute for the Study of French Australian Relations (ISFAR) in Honour of Professor Colin Nettelbeck
8-9 April 2021, online

This online Symposium offers a comprehensive overview of contemporary research in the field of French-Australian relations. The papers cover a broad range of political, cultural and historical topics, from the early history of French-Australian relations to the contemporary diplomatic rapprochement in the Pacific in the context of an encroaching China; photography and viticulture; student educational tours and language enrichment; and aspects of the history of World War One and Two in Europe and the Pacific. A major theme of the Symposium is France's presence in the Indo-Pacific.

There is no registration fee but participants should ensure they are ISFAR members for 2021. Details of membership can be found at: <https://www.isfar.org.au/membership/>

Register for the Symposium here: <https://www.eventbrite.com.au/e/australia-and-france-in-a-regional-and-global-context-tickets-145180198883>

The membership fees of Undergraduates, Postgraduates and Casual workers, and of anyone else claiming hardship, can be paid from a special grant. Simply indicate on the membership form, beneath your signature, that you request this exemption.

The programme with the list of abstracts and session timetable can be found on the ISFAR website:
